MindPay is committed to transparent and fair pricing.

1. Fee Types

When using MindPay services, the following types of fees may apply:

- Transaction fees - charged per operation or transfer
- Blockchain network fees (gas fees) - determined by the underlying blockchain network
- Service-related fees - applicable to specific product features

2. Fee Variability

Fees may vary depending on:

- The type of service or feature used
- Network conditions and congestion at the time of the transaction
- The digital asset or currency involved

3. Disclosure

All applicable fees will be clearly disclosed to users before the execution of any transaction. MindPay will not charge fees without prior notification.

4. Changes to Fees

MindPay reserves the right to update its fee structure. Users will be notified of material changes in advance through the platform or via email.
